METRO POINTS HOTEL

(Formerly The Sheraton Hotel)

8500 Annapolis Road

Picture Provided by John Fulbright, Code Enforcement Officer

At about the turn of the century there were only a handful of houses and a windmill in the area that today's visitors may see from the roof top of the "Metro Points Hotel". Three prominent local families: the Bealls, the Becketts, and the Lanhams were all related to each other.

The Beckett Family farm covered the territory encompassing the present Hanko Building, Beckett Field, a portion of the Capital Beltway, and the grounds of the Metro Points Hotel. The Beckett Family raised cattle and their barns were located where the Metro Points Hotel parking lot is today.

Introducing the:

New Carrollton Area Revitalization District

The “New Carrollton Area Revitalization District” or NARD is a revitalization district which is aimed at bringing businesses and jobs into the area by encouraging growth and outreach, all while enhancing the areas public safety. Any existing commercial entity within the City or any commercial or development entity who wishes to be located in the City will be given priority treatment.

The NARD initiative piggy-backs off of the State’s Economic Development Initiatives aimed at creating and bringing jobs to Maryland, as well as Prince Georges County Executive Rushern Baker’s agenda of transit-orientated development. Altogether, the New Carrollton area is an exciting place to grow.

With the Purple line coming and State Office-buildings being built in the NARD area, New Carrollton is prepared for and open to business.

LEWIS & ANNE WISE, HOMEOWNERS SINCE 1964

The Following Memories Are Provided By Mr. and Mrs. Wise In Their Own Words

Mr. & Mrs. Lewis Wise

New Carrollton Homeowners
Since 1964

Celebrating 65 Years of Marriage
September 2013

Lewis and I were raised in large, strong, close knit families in the late 1920's and 1930's. I grew up in a small town in North Carolina and Lewis grew up in the farming and fishing community on the Eastern Shore of Maryland.

Both families were actively church going people and taught values such hard work, earning your livelihood, personal and financial progress and, most of all, importance of higher education.

As young people of this generation, Lewis and I would be part of a group of trailblazers that would push America toward social change for people of color. So when Lewis and I met at Shaw University, there was an instant connection! We married in September of 1948 and began our lives together "on the road". Lewis was building his career as a Methodist Minister and I continued my studies in early childhood education and became a teacher. During the period from 1948 to around 1961 we were blessed with three children. Due to the Church's expectations of mobility and flexibility of young ministers we set up residence in New York, New Jersey, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Tennessee and Washington, D.C.

As our careers became established, we started saving money and looking for a home to raise our young family.

On the heels of landmark 1964 Civil Rights Act legislation and prior to the Fair Housing Act of 1968, we set out to purchase a solidly built four bedroom home with front and back yard in the safe and vibrant young community of New Carrollton. We selected and successfully obtained a mortgage for the last house built on Longbranch Drive. Unfortunately, we suffered the loss of our first born son in 1952, but were now raising two daughters who were ages 10 & 3 at the time of the move.

Lewis steadfastly continued his ministerial duties, preaching on Sundays at several churches while maintaining a fulltime job with the federal government. Lewis worked at the Pentagon in communications and retired after 30 years of service!! I started teaching in the Montgomery and Prince Georges County Public Schools and was selected to be a trail-blazer in my field. On several occasions, I was observed during my classroom activities teaching elementary aged children. The educational administrators were impressed with how I used physical movement and music to teach. It was a very effective way for the children to learn. As a result of my unique teaching methods, I was asked to be one of the first teachers in a pilot program that led to physical education certification for elementary school teachers.

Teachers certified in this program would begin teaching organized physical education activities geared toward elementary aged children. I successfully completed this program and began teaching physical education.

As Lewis and I were enjoying career success, the fact that we were "unique" residents of this new neighborhood was noticed by some who were not happy to see such progress. Shortly after getting settled into our new home on Longbranch Drive, a very scary incident occurred one evening. Looking out into the front yard, there was something burning!!! This burning object alerted several other neighbors who assisted us in putting out the blaze - a cross had been burned on the lawn! Neighbors who had been reticent about speaking to our family now showed support for our right to live in New Carrollton. Our family was assured that as concerned neighbors, they were looking out for us and our home. No other incidents of this type occurred again.

However, there were times when our children encountered incidents with other children whose intention was to single them out as "not belonging in the neighborhood". Due to family support and the natural resiliency of children, these incidents did not have a lasting effect.

However, the societal remnants of discrimination were still very active in New Carrollton. For instance - our application to the New Carrollton Pool was turned down.

No problem - we invested in an in ground pool in the back yard - one of the very few in the neighborhood to this day! The pursuit of membership in the local private gymnastics organization - rejected - no problem! The children pursued outer interest. Even with the "quotas" that were arbitrarily set up for pom-poms, cheerleaders and other extra-curricular activities - our children received stellar education and went on to pursue post secondary education. As other culturally diverse families moved into the neighborhood - the barriers to full participation in civic and community activities disappeared.

As our children grew up, pursued their careers and began families, Lewis and I both retired had more time to focus on our neighborhood. Homeowners continued to support each other through walking for exercise, tending to the community garden and being on call to help each other whenever needed. Lewis and I also actively worked in our yard and, in 1986, had the honor of winning a Community Beautification Award from the City of New Carrollton for the landscaping in our front yard.

Now the neighborhood children know me as "Ms. Wise" the kind grandmother in the community who remembers birthdays and rewards educational achievements. As active member of Wildercroft Church of Christ we have expanded our community associations to include those in neighboring Hyattsville.

New Carrollton continues to be safe and welcoming environment for the Wise family as we live out our golden years!! We want to thank Mayor Hanko and the editor of the City Newsletter for this wonderful opportunity to share our story.

CITIZEN SAFETY AWARENESS "JOSHUA OMOLOLA"

On Wednesday, June 5, 2013, the Mayor of New Carrollton presented a proclamation honoring city resident "Joshua Omolola", a fifth grade student at Carrollton Elementary School. During the 2012-13 school year, Joshua served as a school safety patrol officer stationed at the corner of Westbrook Drive and Powhatan Street. In the Course of his duties, Josh noticed a safety hazard on the pedestrian bridge crossing Westbrook Creek.

The astute Mr. Omolola, immediately e-mailed the Mayor of the problem for the City to repair. By notifying the City, Josh has demonstrated great care, leadership, and pride in the City he calls home.

The City's proclamation stated, "... that Joshua Omolola deserves our thanks and commendations for his concern and awareness regarding our community by bringing forth the issue of the pedestrian bridge." The City is grateful to have a young resident such as Josh living and caring for New Carrollton and we hope others learn from his example.

MOSQUITOES CONTROL

This is the time of year we are reminded by the experts that more than sixty species of mosquitoes call Maryland their home. Let's hope they all don't find their way here! Realistically though, we need to be prepared, and the good news is - we've already started!

Our resident expert assures us that larvicide has already been applied where needed. There follows another application of a different insecticide by spraying. Essentially, this is the same program that has been followed in the past, and has been very successful.

However, all residents should continue to take measures to protect themselves from mosquito bites.

What to do? Following these simple steps will go far in protecting you and help make your summer activities more enjoyable.

1. Remove standing water from flower pots, tarps, trash receptacles, and other containers.
2. Flush pet food and water bowls and bird baths regularly.
3. Remove unnecessary water-holding containers.
4. Avoid unnecessary outdoor activities at dawn and dusk when mosquitoes are most active, but if you are outdoors then, wear insect repellents according to product labels.
5. Wear long sleeves and long pants to help avoid mosquito bites.
6. Install and inspect window and door screens in your home and repair any holes found.

Finally, use the "Tip or Toss" method to dispose of the standing water and/or the containers themselves.
